The Overview

Remote Medical expanded their company training and needed their first aid student manual translated into French in order to provide the highest quality training for their students.

Client Challenge

The client experienced complex challenges on being able to get all of the company's policies and documents translated into French in order to provide the training and skills necessary for their students to be qualified for the job. The handbook includes everything from patient assessments, CPR, shock, wound management, frostbite, as well as workbook pages to be completed.

Translation Cloud Solution

Translation Cloud was able to get the handbook translated not only quickly and accurately, we were also able to complete the last minute additions sent over by the company. The 61 page document was translated before the deadline with all text translated including those in the images.

The Results

Translation Cloud assists Remote Medical International with all of their Medical Handbook translations. We have worked together on several projects so that Remote Medical International is able to continue to provide the best service to their clients no matter where they are located in the world!
