The Overview

The Dartmouth Institute does extensive research in order to provide patients with most up to date and informative research possible. While needing to be able to let each of their patients and researchers understand, the options they have when it comes to things such as surgery they needed to have the work they completed translated into multiple languages. The Dartmouth Institute needed to make sure all of their current and previous research and pamphlets they had were available in multiple languages so each patient had an equal opportunity to make the right decision for them.

Client Challenge

The Dartmouth Institute needed to make sure all of their current and previous research and pamphlets they had were available in multiple languages so each patient had an equal opportunity to make the right decision for them. With this there were documents patients needed to review and be able to ask questions concerning the treatment they would be receiving.

Translation Cloud Solution

Translation Cloud was able to get the pamphlets and treatment options translated not only quickly and accurately, we were also able to translate research completed as well. With a tight deadline for the documents to be submitted back to institute, not only was Translation Cloud able to meet the deadline we also gave Dartmouth Institute enough time to review and make changes to the documents before they were provided to the patients.

The Results

Translation Cloud assists The Dartmouth Institute with translating all of their pamphlets and research to make sure all of the patients have an equal opportunity to review and ask questions in regards to all treatment and options they have available.
